SENATOR WHITE'S VIEW

Believes New Tariff Treaty With Canada Will Injure Maine

Declaring that "It can mean only harm to my State," Wallace H. White, Republican senator from Maine, Tuesday denounced the Administration's new tariff treaty with Canada. "This treaty violates sound government principles and falls with destructive force upon the industries and interests of Maine," he said. He is in Los Angeles as a member of the Senate committee investigating receiverships and bankruptcy.

ON DONATION DAY

The Home Invites Its Multitude of Friends to be Present

At Thanksgiving Time the Home for Aged Women is much in the hearts and minds of Rockland citizens. This excellent institution is a comfort to think upon, realizing that what the community is doing for these women comes in an admonition from above—"Inasmuch as ye have done it unto one of the least of these my brethren, ye have done it unto me."

Our Home has been generously helped by the Community Chest, and by its aid we are enabled to keep the home open. Just now we are asking for fruits from your winter store; vegetables, wood, coal, money—any such kindly donations will be gladly welcomed and properly used.

The Board of Managers assist their excellent and faithful president, Mrs. Lester Sherman, who has carried on this work most faithfully for the past ten years. We are keeping open house on Tuesday of next week, from 2:30 o'clock p. m. until 4:30, and will welcome all callers, with the aid of the Ladies of the Home.

Come, and bring your Thanksgiving offering, and see what a delightful environment these good women enjoy. From the Board

SPECIAL CONCLAVE

Claremont Commandery Will Complete Fine Year Next Monday

A special conclave of Claremont Commandery, K. T. will be held Monday opening at 4:30 p. m. The order of the Temple will be conferred on three candidates. The work of the afternoon will be conferred up to and including the fourth libation on three candidates and the fifth libation on two candidates.

At 6:30 p. m. a roast beef banquet will be served. The cooks and the mothers have all done their best. No calf of Bagdad e'er saw such display. Or dreamed of a treat like a Thanksgiving Day.

At 7:30 p. m. the Grand Commander Rt. Hon. Sir Edward W. Cram will be received with the customary honors, as he has assured the Eminent Commander that he will be present at this conclave. Other Grand Officers are expected. At 8 p. m. the work of the afternoon will be continued.

As Claremont Commandery has knighted more Sir Knights this year than any other Commandery in the State, and this being the last conclave that the present officers will confer the Order, Eminent Commander Ludwick earnestly requests members to be present.

WE WANTERKNOW!

"Thanksgiving Song"
Editor of The Courier-Gazette:—
The poem asked for by Mrs. Morrill is here given. The authorship is unknown. J. A. T.

Come, uncles and cousins; come, nieces and aunts;
Come, nephews and brothers,—no wots, no can'ts;
Put business and shopping, and school-books away;
The year has rolled round; it is Thanksgiving Day.

Come home from the college, ye mirth-dressed youth;
Come home from your factories, Ann, Katy, and Ruth;
From the anvil, the counter, the farm, come away;
Home, home with you! home, it is Thanksgiving Day.

The table is spread, and the dinner is dressed;
The cooks and the mothers have all done their best;
No calf of Bagdad e'er saw such display;
Or dreamed of a treat like a Thanksgiving Day.

Pies, puddings, and custards, pigs, oysters, and huts;
Come forward and seize them, without ifs or buts;
Bring home of your slim little appetites here;
Thanksgiving Day comes only once in a year.

Now children revisit the darling old place,
Now brothers and sisters, long parted, embrace;
The family ring is united once more;
And the whole voices shout at the old cottage door.

The grandfather smiles on the innocent mirth,
And blesses the Power that has guarded his hearth;
He remembers no trouble, he feels no decay;
But thinks his whole life has been Thanksgiving Day.

Then praise for the past and the present we sing,
And trustful await what the future may bring;
Let doubt and repining be banished away;
And the whole of our lives be a Thanksgiving Day! J. A. T.

MEETING MARK TWAIN

Rockland Lions Have Delectful Session With W. O. Fuller Guest Speaker

W. O. Fuller, editor of The Courier-Gazette was guest speaker before the Rockland Lions Club yesterday his subject being "The Mark Twain I Knew." Coming upon the centenary of the famous humorist's birth, the talk was particularly apropos, and it carried additional value as a narrative of incidents which grew out of a personal acquaintanceship.

Mr. Fuller was convalescing from illness when the mail man one day delivered at his home a letter from his intimate friend Thomas Bailey Aldrich asking him to share with Mark Twain an invitation to be a house guest of Mr. and Mrs. Aldrich in Boston.

Mr. Fuller and Mr. Aldrich had been close friends over a long period of years, but the Rockland man had never dared look upon Mark Twain as other than unapproachable. He got up from his sick bed and prepared at once for the acceptance of the invitation.

"I would have gone if it had been on a stretcher," he confided to yesterday's audience.

The first event upon the day of his arrival at the Aldrich home was an afternoon tea. Mr. Fuller recalls that he was chatting with Mrs. Clemens when her husband arrived, distinguished in appearance and with the rolling gait of a sailor. Mr. Fuller was the first person in the room to be introduced, and noting the tea which sat in front of the Rockland editor, Mark Twain warned him to beware of "the insidious cup." "I had one the other day," said Mark, "and it kept me awake 25 hours out of 24."

The great humorist had recently returned from an audience with the Emperor of Austria, and was a social lion at the gathering, one humorous anecdote falling upon another, and told with his inimitable drawl. At the dinner that night Mark Twain illuminated everything with his humorous utterances. The dinner was followed by three delightful hours in Mr. Aldrich's "den." Occasionally Aldrich would indulge in a humorous thrust, but the evening was chiefly given over to a Mark Twain monologue which none present ever forgot.

Of particular interest was Mark's story of Capt. Stormfield's voyage into the next world.

"Next day," said Mr. Fuller, "I had Mark Twain all to myself. We were consigned to the Aldrich study, and there he let go with his great wealth of humor. He knew he had an appreciative listener. He had lately returned from his old home in the West and narrated some of his experiences there. Among other things he told of a visit to his uncle in Connecticut, where he became enamored of a pretty girl, whom he eventually took on a buggy ride. The horse was accustomed to going over a milk route, and when the couple started on their ride they were dismayed to find that the horse insisted upon stopping at each house where the owner was accustomed to deliver milk.

Other stories the speaker recalled, all in Mark's best vein.

Mr. Fuller told the story of a visit which Mark Twain paid to Rockland many years ago on H. H. Rogers' yacht Kanawa. The party came ashore and rode around in a buckboard, but Mr. Fuller learned of the distinguished presence only after the yacht left port.

An interchange of letters followed, and Mark's occupy a prominent place in Mr. Fuller's "Brown study." "Will Mark Twain live?" asked Mr. Fuller in finishing. "Will his immortal writings live, I mean." The speaker quoted Col. Watterson: "Mark Twain is incomparable; the Lincoln of our literature."

"I am very happy in the recollection of those days spent in his society," the speaker concluded. When we parted for the last time he said "Auf Wiedersehen"—"till we meet again. When shall we meet, and where? I wonder."—By F. A. W.

Frank A. Tirrell, Jr., was made a key member, and received the customary trophy amid applause. The new member Charles Maxcy, was initiated under the direction of Al Jones and Parker Worrey. Guests yesterday were John M. Richardson and Frank Robbins, the new proprietor of the Corner Drug Store.

POMEROY NEW PRESIDENT

Chamber Of Commerce Had Many Guests At Annual Banquet Tuesday Night

The Rockland Chamber of Commerce played host Tuesday night to the various service clubs and Board of Trade members from Camden and Thomaston, the event bringing together 200 men who gave closest attention to the valuable information

"We must apply more power and more speed," said John Pomeroy, the new president of the Rockland Chamber of Commerce disseminated by the guest speaker, and to the other developments of the session.

It was the annual meeting of the Rockland Chamber, and it was learned with much interest that the new president of that organization will be John Pomeroy, who for the past ten years has been attached to the staff of the Lawrence Portland Cement Company, and who brings to the office not only the qualifications of a presiding officer, but who is thoroughly obsessed with the desire to see his adopted city make proper advancement from an industrial and civic standpoint.

Other officers were announced thus: Vice Presidents—Freeman S. Young and Sumner C. Perry. Secretary—Miss Lenore Benner. Treasurer—Joseph W. Robinson. The banquet was in the nature of a chicken supper, well and abundantly served, and at its conclusion old-time favorites were sung under the able direction of Kelley B. Crie, Parker E. Worrey and Lou B. Cook.

The retiring president, Thomas H. Chisholm expressed his satisfaction at the size of the gathering and introduced the presidents of various service clubs—Dr. E. W. Peaslee of the newly formed Kiwanis Club; Dr. James Kent of the Rotary Club; A. W. Gregory of the Lions Club, and Elisha W. Pike, representing the Elks Club. President Chisholm also introduced Victor Ramsdell, as the man who has done so much toward restoring prosperity to Rockland. Mr. Ramsdell, which has recently concluded its first season of sardine canning in this city.

"We have had a busy year and accomplished much," said Mr. Chisholm. "We believe the efforts of the Chamber will be even more successful in future years."

Outlining some of the work he first mentioned the proposed community building, which originated with the Chamber, and which requires the co-operation of the city, State and Federal government if it is to materialize. It is now in the hands of the chief engineer in August.

The matter of harbor dredging was next taken up, and President Chisholm told of the efforts of Charles Small in obtaining 1000 signatures to a petition which was sent to Washington. Congressman Moran sent a request to the engineers to have the improvement made, and when engineers were sent to Rockland a fine spirit of co-operation was manifested. The plans call for the maintenance of Lermond's Cove and the dredging of the harbor in front of the Public Landing so that large yachts may anchor in that vicinity.

The Chamber co-operated in bringing the department encampment of the Grand Army to this city next summer, and assisted in handling the American Legion convention last summer.

The Chamber's experience with a Waban, Mass., canning company was interesting. The concern required 12 acres of land and a building which would furnish 90,000 square feet of floor space, with two elevators and good drainage. A representative was sent from Rockland to interview the company and be in on the ground floor. He found that the concern had no immediate intention of moving, but was preparing itself in case it had to.

There was no building of that size in Rockland and the Chamber interested itself in seeing what could be done financially about erecting one. The matter was taken up with Congressman Moran who referred it to the Reconstruction Finance Corporation and learned that a bona fide proposition could get funds. And then it was learned that the Waban canning company had already located in a district nearer home. The incident served to emphasize what the Chamber had learned on other occasions—that if the city had a proper building it would stand a better chance of getting an industry which is seeking a change in location. "Before we are very successful," said President Chisholm, "we ought to have at least one building available."

In practically every instance industries which approached the Rockland Chamber of Commerce asked to be financed, with no guarantee as to how long they might stay here.

Speaking of the Camden Hills project, Mr. Chisholm told of the energetic work done by the Camden Board of Trade, and how Rockland had co-operated by sending a large delegation to Augusta to help put it over. The proposition would be of much benefit to Knox County.

Referring to the one-hour parking law (which caused an audible smile) President Chisholm told of the habit which some merchants have of leaving their cars all day with no thought of how it might injure their neighbor's business.

The hearing on the proposition to dredge Long Cove did not prove successful, "but we were still in there trying," said the speaker.

The Chamber sent representatives to Augusta in the interest of a bill which would tend to stimulate the buying of Maine products. The bill was finally killed.

"The directors and committees have worked hard," said President Chisholm. "When there has been work they have shouldered the responsibility and gone through with it." The banqueters were informed that the refreshing Coca Cola served in connection with the supper came from the Hewett Bottling Works, and Mr. Hanley got a good hand.

Joseph W. Robinson, treasurer, reported that the year's receipts were $1478 and the disbursements $1467. This didn't leave an impressive sum in the till, but it was "out of the red."

The new president, John Pomeroy, got a fine reception and extended a cordial greeting to the visiting organizations. "Our interests are closely interwoven," he said, "and we work with them to our common good."

Declaring that the Chamber of Commerce was approaching the crossroads; that its finances were not overly abundant, and that the membership has dwindled, he said that more power and speed are necessary to get over safely. The reason for decreasing membership was an honest one—men had to count their pennies. The Chamber has found it difficult to function, but it has done all possible. The most pessimistic will admit that the future is more rosy.

The guest speaker was Lawrence O. Pratt, a councillor of the New England Council—an easy, logical talker, who gave to the local Chamber and its guests the benefit of the experience gained by a scientific study of the situation. The topic assigned to him was "Community and Recreational Development."

For Rockland he offered these fundamentals:

1. Find out the facts about your city.
2. Make a survey of raw materials.
3. See what the labor situation is.
4. What are the transportation facilities?
5. Consider the tax question and other legislative matters.
6. See what power you have available.

Narrow down your prospects, and concentrate on a few which might come. Improve your facilities for industries. Oppose undue burdens on industries. You must be able to tell inquiring industries what you have to offer. Letters to proper contacts ought to bring results.

MAINE LIQUOR LAWS

Legal Advisor To the State Commission Has Prepared a Digest

A "Digest and Revision of the Liquor Laws of the State of Maine," prepared by John P. Carey, legal advisor to the State Liquor Commission, was ready for distribution Nov. 1. It is likely to have wide circulation for as the value of the 36-page pamphlet becomes more and more apparent to those doing business with the courts, the demand is bound to show consistent increase.

Attorney Carey has devoted several months of research in preparing this digest of Maine's intricate liquor laws, some of which were repealed and others retained when Maine took a stand for repeal.

Beginning with the set up of the State Liquor Commission, its powers, the people's rights as expressed by local option, enforcement provisions laws relating to malt liquors, establishments of state stores, liquor licenses, for hotels and clubs, restrictions on production and wholesaling and general provisions, he quotes the lay, sections and chapters. There are opinions of the law-court and interpolations of Mr. Carey. In fact there is every phase of the liquor law at the consultant's hand.

Supposing one wants to consult the law relative to transportation. Instead of being obliged to wade through numerous pages of heavy volumes, he can find the law at an instant's notice in the little booklet that is of such convenient size that a number of copies may be carried in one's pocket without inconvenience. The duties of enforcement officers are outlined, and the proceedings to be gone through with before one can search and what must be done with the liquor after seizure.

And one learns that at the biennial September elections the voters have the right to express themselves relative to the sale of liquor, wines and malt liquors. The three questions upon which voters may register their convictions follow:

- 1.—Shall state stores for the sale of liquor be operated by permission of the state liquor commission in this city or town?
- 2.—Shall licenses be granted in this city or town under regulation of the state liquor commission for the sale therein of wine and spirits to be consumed on the premises?
- 3.—Shall licenses be granted in this city or town for the sale therein of malt liquor?

Mr. Carey's Digest is full of legal information. It is bound to become a handy reference. Copies have been mailed to all judges and recorders of municipal courts, trial justices and many others who, by the nature of their profession, come in contact with the liquor laws. He has rendered them a valuable service by this compendium which was prepared and checked with remarkable care.

THEY DO READ IT

New York, Nov. 19
Editor of The Courier-Gazette:—
Our forces at the Bear Mountain Bridge say they sent you a motor touring article covering a route from Maine to Florida. I thought you would be interested in knowing that the article must have attracted considerable attention on the part of your readers as numerous inquiries for information about this trip have reached this office.

W. H. Averell, vice president coupling with it the suggestion that skis be manufactured here for a wide market.

Mr. Pratt told how the tourists' dollar is spent, 21 cents for food, as an instance. "And that sticks in my crop," said he. "Why don't the farmers of Maine raise more food for the markets, instead of obliging our hotels to send to Boston for it?"

Mr. Pratt viewed the situation from the standpoint of a practical advertising man, and gave many valuable hints as to how our locality could properly be placed before the market.

DAYBREAK

Daybreak is dawning, stars fade away,
Come a new morning, sunbeams at play,
Dewdrops are falling, bedecking the grass,
Nature is calling to all those who pass.
Flowers open their petals, the wind stirs the leaves,
Daytime it settles, and homage receives.
Birds now are flying, free fit about,
Breeze gently singing, night-time is out.
Brightly is shining the sun in the sky,
Day is declining, too soon to die.
Daylight is going, then fades away,
Stars begin showing—gone is the day.
Stars they are gleaming, up in the sky,
Nature is dreaming, soon by and by.
Birds, they are sleeping, safe in the trees,
Night-time is keeping watch over these.

HOOVER AND BORAH

Two Big Chaps Who Have Country Guessing As To Intentions

Word reached the capital Tuesday that friends of Senator Borah will enter his name in a number of next year's Presidential primaries unless they get a positive "no" from the Idaho Republican.

Coming from reliable political sources, this word served to emphasize the possibility of a spectacular duel between Borah and former President Hoover, either over the Republican nomination or the course the party shall take.

Whether or not Borah and Hoover become avowed candidates for the nomination, this and other recent developments have indicated that they are rapidly moving into the leadership of two opposing factions within the party.

Both are avoiding discussion of candidates and talking only of issues, but the issues they present are in sharp contrast. Borah has minimized the spending issue, which Hoover has stressed, and advanced instead, the question of monopoly. Furthermore, the Idaho Senator has pointedly demanded reorganization of party leadership.

While Borah has refused to commit himself on his 1936 plans, the activity of his friends out in the States virtually assures that the Idahoan's name and views will go before the primary voters and—if he wins—the national convention.

When Borah arrived in Washington last week his reply to inquiries as to whether he would enter the primaries was: "I can't say I won't." According to word reaching Washington, unless he eliminates himself more positively than that, his name will be entered.

Hoover has declined to comment on his plans, and his friends have insisted he was interested only in issues.

UNCLE SAM'S AID

Is All Over For Maine As Far As The E.R.A. Is Concerned

With direct Federal relief grants now ended, Maine may count a total of $8,455,795 granted through the major Federal work relief channels to provide jobs for her unemployed.

The Emergency Relief Administration announced last week that Federal relief grants had been suspended for Maine, throwing the burden of employing the employables on relief rolls on the works progress program. Gov. Brann, after a plea for extension of relief payments, announced the E.R.A. in Maine would operate until Dec. 1.

Up to Tuesday, Comptroller-General McCarl had approved expenditures of $1,912,162 on the Maine Works Progress program.

The Virgin Islands puzzled Columbus when he sighted them on his second voyage. Amazed at their beauty and bewildered at their numbers, he could not think of enough saints in whose honor to name them, so he took a short cut and called them The Virgin Islands, a tribute to St. Ursula and her 11,000 Virgins.

OVER IN LINCOLN

Superior Court Adjourns After Short Term—Twelve Divorces Granted

Lincoln County Superior Court adjourned yesterday. But two cases went to the jury, both civil cases arising from automobile accidents.

Indictments were disposed of as follows:

Thomas M. Woodbridge of Westport, indicted for manslaughter resulting from the killing of Paul Sylvester of Woolwich in an automobile accident, Oct. 23, at Wiscasset, pleaded guilty and was sentenced to eight months in Augusta jail. Woodbridge was represented by Harvey R. Pease, of Wiscasset.

Cyrus Rollins of Wiscasset, indicted for larceny, was discharged after the State had put in its case before a drawn jury, when County Attorney Weston M. Hilton asked to have a not pros entered. E. W. Bridgman of Bath appeared for Rollins.

Arthur Hutchins of Jefferson pleaded guilty to an indictment charging breaking and entering and was sentenced to six months.

Grace A. Simmons and Stanley W. Hatch, both of Newcastle, indicted jointly on a statutory charge, each pleaded guilty and were sentenced to the Women's and Men's Reformatories respectively.

Harold Warming of Waldoboro pleaded guilty to embezzlement and after being sentenced to two to four years in State Prison was placed on probation, with Deputy Sheriff Merle Castner of Waldoboro appointed special probation officer.

Benjamin Perry of Waldoboro, indicted for embezzlement, pleaded guilty and had a State Prison sentence of two to four years probated.

About the usual number of divorce matters were considered by the court. In the case of Eldred L. Soule of Waldoboro vs. Alice Soule of Warren Justice William H. Fisher denied a decree of divorce.

Twelve decrees of divorce were signed this week: Edna M. Langlois of Bucksport, for non-support. Beattie L. Glidden, also of Whitefield, cruel and abusive treatment. Ruth V. Nickerson of Bristol from Leo R. Nickerson of Damariscotta, non-support, custody of a minor child given to Mrs. Nickerson. Grace A. ## WEATHER WAS BAD

But Those Who Braved It Were Delighted With P. T. A. Program

At The Parent-Teacher meeting Monday night, inclement weather caused a small attendance but those who braved the elements were rewarded by an exceptionally delightful demonstration given by the commercial and science departments of the High School, supplemented by some excellent music from the orchestra.

The program, under the direction of Albert McCarty, was announced by Eleanor Johnson, who explained thoroughly the routine and purpose of each demonstration in an interesting manner. Typewriting classes of Mrs. Spear, beginners and advanced, exhibited typing with and without rhythm, blindfolded, concentration and speed and accuracy. Members of Miss Haskell's commercial geography class gave enlightening short talks on products of our country. The Contents of Air were taken up one by one in Mr. Durrell's science class, made effective by means of placards for each member who talked on the make-up, usage, and appearance of one of the many gases which combine to form our air. The school orchestra larger and stronger in its number of varied instruments this year is certainly an organization to be proud of as the music rendered by them is truly stirring under the skillful directorship of Principal Harold Libby.

At the business meeting special attention was called to the attainment of 950 members in the drive now approaching its close. This is the largest membership yet numbered in this organization and efforts are still being made to receive the 50 additional members to reach the goal of 1000. Applause greeted the names of Mrs. Eva Toner, chairman of the drive and her ward workers as they were read by the president. The co-operation of every member was asked in "putting over" the annual fall show "And It Rained" to be presented next Monday and Tuesday nights.

The program for the December meeting will be presented by the elementary schools. Parents and teachers are urged to attend as it is desired to make all meetings a discussion medium where both may gain useful information and ideas.

Mike Quinn of the Underwood Staff is home from Whiting, Washington County, with a 12-point buck whose acquaintance he had formed on a previous hunting trip. There's lots of game down that way, according to Mike, and not much snow.

"A Motor Trip To California" is the fascinating title of Judge L. M. Sanborn's address before the Baptist Men's League. The committee in charge of the supper comprises Mrs. Lucy Rankin, chairman, Mrs. Edna French, Mrs. Fannie Bickmore, Mrs. Bertha Greenlaw, Mrs. Lena Rokes, Mrs. Abbie Morey, Mrs. Lilla Blaisdell and Mrs. Lola Willis.

HOW NICE THIS SOUNDS!
A persistent rumor that the William Underwood Company would can sardines at its Rockland factory next season was yesterday verified for The Courier-Gazette by a member of the staff. Employment will be given to 150 persons. With two big sardine factories in operation the Rockland waterfront should be a very busy place next summer. May its perfume never grow less.

Mrs. Grace Rollins who is coaching the play "The Burglary at Brown's" which the Methenesec Club, ways and means committee, is to present on Dec. 9, announces members of the cast as follows: Frank M. Tibbetts, Mrs. Rollins, Miss Madeline Rogers and Lloyd Daniels in the leading roles. Ted Perry, L. B. Cook, Miss Hazel Marshall, Mrs. Vivian Hewett, L. C. Jackson Jr., David S. Beach and George W. Gay.

Mrs. C. H. Morey, superintendent of the cradle roll department of the First Baptist Sunday school, directed a delightful party Tuesday afternoon at the church parlors for the cradle roll babies and mothers. There were 13 babies present, each accompanied by a fond and admiring mother. Ice cream and fancy cookies were served, and a brief but pleasing program presented. Mrs. Morey was assisted by Mrs. Donald Karl, Mrs. Fred Carter, Mrs. F. M. Kittredge and Miss Morey.

Donation Weeks at Knox Hospital were a great success, many gifts of vegetables, canned products, fruits, etc., being sent in. Miss Ellen Daly, superintendent, takes this opportunity to express her appreciation, it being impossible to make individual thanks as many of the offerings were left at the back entrance without names. Each and every offering will be used to the best advantage. Such donations are always welcomed, for they go a long way in lessening the current expenses. Miss Daly is also appreciative of the old linen sent in and hopes to have further donations of such material, to be made into tray cloths and napkins for patients' use.

Mrs. Fred Robie 62, died at her home in East Milton, Mass., Nov. 13 after an illness of about two weeks. Mrs. Robie was formerly Evelyn Files of this city and recently visited relatives here. Funeral services were held at the Episcopal Church in East Milton and interment was in Dedham, Mass.

Amory H. Waite, Jr., formerly chief radio operator on the Steamship Bear of Oakland in the Byrd Antarctic Expedition, No. 2, in 1934, is to lecture in Watts hall, Thomaston Friday night, Nov. 29, under the auspices of the Thomaston Nursing Association. The Bear of Oakland was the supply ship of the expedition; and Mr. Waite was one of the three men who rescued Admiral Byrd after the latter's four months' isolation in the 9x13 weather station 123 miles south of Little America. Mr. Waite brings stereopticon slides to illustrate the lecture, and will have on hand some of the equipment which he took to the South Pole. It will be one of the most remarkable lectures ever given before a Knox County audience.

The automobile cases which had been on trial before Justices Sturgis, Manser and Emery since Monday morning, were completed yesterday forenoon. The case was taken under advisement, and an early decision is expected.

Barge 11 of the L.&W.B. Line, loaded with paving from Wildcat; and Barges 8 and 5 of the same line, loaded with paving from Stonington—all bound for New York were in the harbor this week awaiting the arrival of the Tug Plymouth which was bringing Barges 1 and 10 also to load stone for New York.

Armed with a small but mysterious box, Deputy Sheriff Granville N. Bachelder of St. George, made an early call upon the psy editor this morning. The box contained a California poppy, a bachelor's button, a calenda and an especially large and handsome pansy, all picked yesterday from Mr. Bachelder's partially snow-covered garden.

John Norton of Washington paid $18 in Municipal Court yesterday after Judge Dwinall had found him guilty of threatening Lester Mooers with a shot gun. An altercation had arisen over a pig, half of which was claimed by Mooers. Norton admits that he was about to go after a gun, but says that it wasn't loaded, and that he never pulled one on Mooers. Norton is a World War veteran, having fought four years with the British Army and having been in a German prison camp. One of his arms is crippled due to a 40-foot fall from a light pole when he was working as lineman after the war.

Raymond Grindle, a former resident of Oliver street, who now makes his home in Winthrop, Mass., has been in the city the past two days, while on a week's vacation, which will be spent mainly in Sedgwick. Mr. Grindle is now on the Eastern boats running between Boston and New York, but last winter ran to Havana, and was in the Cuban metropolis during the strike riots, which he describes in a most vivid and interesting fashion. Sitting in a Jackson-ville park one afternoon, listening to a concert, he was startled to hear someone say: "Why don't you ask the Band to play 'Marching Through Georgia' Ray?" The speaker was Charlie Collony, a former fellow townsman.

IN MEMORIAM
Lines written by my brother, Foster Snow, on his coming home from Colorado Springs, where he had been for his health, and who passed away one year ago last September. Published in loving memory, by his sister, Mrs. Norman Beverage
Rockland, Nov. 19
"BY THE OPEN FIREPLACE"
While sitting by the fire, on a bleak November day,
My thoughts begin to wander, slowly drifting far away
In the glowing tongues are pictures, dim at first then flaming bright,
Pictures that we ever treasure, never driven from our sight.
I can see a field of daisies, 'round my old home by the sea,
I can see my childhood playmates, as they gather there with me,
Oh how clearly are they pictured, each familiar line I trace
As I gaze at memories picture, in that open fire-place.
In those days we all were happy, never had a thought of care,
Though to-day we're separated, many scattered here and there,
Yet in fancy still I see them, there's a smile on every face
As they come to me in fancy, 'round this lighted fire-place.
I have crossed the rolling prairie, I have seen the great divide,
I have listened to the murmur of the Mississippi's tide,
I have stood at old Niagara, seen its falls and misty spray,
None of them can match the picture, I have witnessed her to-day.

Mrs. John Kelley and two sons, accompanied by Mr. Kelley, have returned home from a two weeks' visit in Jonesport. Mr. Kelley resumed Monday his work in that place.

Mr. and Mrs. George Clark and son Aubrey of Holbrook, Mass., were holiday guests of E. A. Clark and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Allard.

Mrs. Edgar Newhall entertained at two tables of cards Friday evening. Honors went to Mrs. Charles Burke, Mrs. Herman Carr and Mrs. E. Godfrey. Lunch was served and a pleasant time enjoyed.

Mrs. Callie Morrill spent Monday afternoon at her home here, attending the Strand Theatre with Mrs. Eugene Godfrey in the evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Ashley Calder and two children were weekend guests of Mrs. John Kelley returning Monday to Portsmouth.

Llewellyn Elwell is somewhat improved from a severe case of blood poisoning in his arm. He is attended by Dr. Lawry.

CUSHING

Miss Edna Boggs of Warren was a recent visitor at B. S. Geyer's home.

Alvaro Young and Oscar Young have shot five foxes within a short time, most of them in the vicinity of Wiley's Turn.

S. A. Miller of Thomaston recently killed in this town a spike horn buck which weighed 125 pounds. Farnham Stone shot a doe Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. F. I. Geyer were guests Sunday of their niece Mrs. M. F. McFarland in New Harbor.

The weather man has brought, a decided change from the beautiful days of October and the first few weeks of November. A real touch of winter and the first snow-storm have arrived.

The Helpful Club spent a pleasant evening Friday with Mrs. Edith Perle and Mrs. G. A. Robbins at the home of the former, about twenty being present. The assembly was in the nature of a farewell party to Mrs. Perle, who with her father, started on their trip across continent, Monday, planning to stop for a few weeks with

With the Extension Agents

— And The —

Knox Lincoln Farm Bureau

Poultry accounts for 1935 have closed and already 18 have been sent in by poultrymen of Knox-Lincoln to be summarized. Those sending in accounts are: West Abna, Mrs. Charles Hendrickson; Friendship, Albion Wotton, Melvin Lawry; North Edgcomb, Leon Dodge; Nobleboro, F. Willis Hall, Harold Chapman, S. T. Creamer; Jefferson, Herbert Spear; Washington, Fred Babb; Warren, H. V. Starrett, Virgil Hills; Waldo, A. F. Currie, James Calderwood, Joe Damon, Philip Lee; Whitefield, M. Jodion; George Hausen and M. A. Brann.

Knox-Lincoln tied for second place, with Franklin County for Farm Bureau membership honors. Last year and also in 1931, Knox-Lincoln won first. This year, that honor was taken by York County.

Plans are being made by the Extension Service to present the Warren potato bill to the farmers of the district. A series of meetings will be held in all organized Farm Bureau communities. Questions relating to this bill should be addressed to the Extension Service, Rockland.

Herbert Spear, Jefferson, is planning to attend the winter short courses at Orono, during December and January. He will specialize in poultry, as he and his father now have 700 layers on their farm in North Nobleboro.

A mailing list is now being prepared for the monthly market news bulletin on poultry published each month by the Extension Service of the University of Maine. Anyone desiring this publication should get in touch with County Agent Wentworth, Rockland.

The first short course at the College of Agriculture, Orono, starts on Dec. 3 for three weeks. The second course starts Jan. 6. Information on these courses can be obtained from College of Agriculture, Orono.

H. L. Richardson, poultry specialist will be in the district, Nov. 26 and 27 to assist County Agent, Wentworth, in the poultry pedigree breeding work. Calls will be made on George Hodgson, Camden, breeder of White Leghorns, Hugh Little, Rockland, and Maynard Kinny, Thomaston, breeder of R. I. Reds.

4-H Club Notes
Many clubs have started in club work for 1936 by the election of officers. ## REVOLUTIONARY PENSIONERS OF KNOX COUNTY, MAINE

By Edward Kallioch Gould, State Historian of Maine
(CHAPTER LVIII.)

Died Oct. 30, 1834, Mary Ulmer, widow of Gen. George Ulmer of Lincolnville aged 72.

Major John Russ married a daughter of Major-General George Ulmer, one of the prominent men in this section of the country in the early part of the century.

That the main thoroughfares in Belfast were not without fault in 1811 is evident from the following communication found among the town papers:

Lincolnville, April 14, 1811

To the Selectmen of Belfast:—

Gentlemen: I am requested by the Solicitor General of this Commonwealth to inform you that Chief Justice Parsons, with the rest of the members of the Supreme Court, will travel to Castine in June next, by land, in their carriages. Their wishes are that the road should be in good order, otherwise fines will be levied to their extent. It is certainly an object to labor a little on the road to make it agreeable to the Honorable Court.

I am, gentlemen, your humble servant, George Ulmer, Sheriff.

July 4, 1807, says a letter under date of July 7, was attended with much bluster and stir. The companies of Artillery and Cavalry turned out and there was a public dinner at the hall of T. Whittier, Esq. Gen. Ulmer and Major Jonathan Wilson made their appearance in uniform.

In 1794, the Duke de Liancourt, one of the noblemen who escaped to this country from the French Revolution, found a temporary asylum with Gen. Knox at Thomaston, and accompanied the latter over his estate, proceeding as far as Brigadier's Island. The tour was made in a two horse carriage, driven by a negro servant. He thus described this section of the Country:

"Camden was the first stage at which we halted—by the Indians, and even by its present inhabitants, called Megunticook. At Duck Trap after a poor supper and an indifferent lodging with Capt. Alma (Gen. George Ulmer), who, however opulent, continues to live in a miserable log house, without suitable supplies of bread, rum, sugar or even flesh, we renewed our journey along a bad road, which was not however, quite so bad as the roads in the district of Genesee, we soon reached Little River, another small stream running into the Penobscot which is not more navigable than that of Duck Trap, but like it drives a small saw mill. A few solitary dwell about the Bay, almost every one of whom is owner of a small fishing boat, navigated in the fishing season, chiefly by himself and children. "Their land lies, like that of their neighbors, totally uncultivated. The whole shore is occupied by such small fishermen."

Gen. Ulmer was chosen the first Master under its Charter of Amity Lodge, No. 6, Free and Accepted Masons, of Camden in 1801, and was in all five times its Master. He was afterwards appointed District Deputy Grand Master under the Grand Lodge of Massachusetts.

When the centennial of Amity Lodge was celebrated in 1901, the remains of General George Ulmer were removed from the place of burial in Lincolnville and re-interred in Mountain View Cemetery in Camden with Masonic honors. The old grave stone marking the grave in Lincolnville was also brought down and placed flat over his grave in Camden, which was marked with a Revolutionary marker in 1930.

Oct. 10, 1793, John Lindsey of Thomaston for 20 pounds conveyed to George Ulmer of Thomaston, trader, 100 acres in that town, which included the whole of the neck of land at the head of Lemond's Cove.

August 14, 1798, Joseph Peirce of Boston for $200 conveyed to George Ulmer of Thomaston land in that town. June 17, 1800, Major Gen. Henry Knox and his wife Lucy conveyed to George Ulmer of Thomaston land in that town. Aug. 1, 1804, Jonathan Spear of Thomaston for $50 conveyed to George Ulmer of Thomaston two acres, being part of lot No. 21, in Madambetticks meadow May 3, 1808, George Ulmer Jr. of Camden for $2,000 conveyed to George Ulmer of Camden lot No. 65 of the Fales survey of that town. July 1, 1809, John Ulmer of Thomaston conveyed to George Ulmer of Camden lot No. 65 of the Fales survey of that town.

George Ulmer Jr.

George Ulmer, (Jr.) of Rockland, Camden, and Hope, enlisted in Capt. Samuel Gregg's Co. Col., James Car-gill's Massachusetts Regiment Aug. 8, 1775, and was discharged Dec. 31, 1775. This company was stationed at St. Georges, Waldoborough and Camden for the defense of the sea-coast. He was also a private in Capt. Benjamin Plummer's Co. of Massachusetts troops, stationed at St. Georges for the defense of the sea-coast, serving from March 5 to Dec. 10, 1776. Also under the name of George Ulmore, private Capt. John Reed's Co. Col. James Hunter's Corps raised for the defense of eastern Mass., enlisted Aug. 21, discharged Nov. 20, 1782.

In his declaration for pension executed April 3, 1818, he gives his age as 57 and his residence as Camden in the District of Maine. He states he enlisted at Waldoboro, then in Massachusetts, now Maine, on the 17th day of May 1777, in Capt. Abraham Hunt's Company, 1st Regiment Mass., troops commanded by Col. Joseph Vose in Brigadier-Gen. John Glover's Brigade, from which he was honorably discharged at the Highlands near West Point, New York, Dec. 31, 1779. He further states he was never in any general battle, but engaged in many skirmishes with the enemy and among others at White Plains, and also at Flourown, and various others during the retreat from Rhode Island. He suffers from rheumatism and cramps so that he has not performed hard labor for several years. In his schedule of property annexed to his declaration for a pension, he lists one hog, one grindstone $2.50, furniture, one dining table, four chairs, and a note of $25 against Isaac Ulmer, one pot, one teakettle, a demand against Martin Ulmer $15, and cooking utensils valued at $6. He states he owes Capt. William Norwood and others about $200. Rheumatism and cramps have prevented him from doing hard labor for several years.

His wife's name was Mary and she was 63 years old when he applied for a pension July 12, 1820. She was described as not in good health and has lost the use of her right arm. The census of 1790 placed him in Thomaston with a family of eight. This man should not be confused with the George Ulmer, who is given in this census as living at Ducktrap (now Lincolnville) with a family of six. He is the Gen. George Ulmer who commanded the American forces at Clam Cove (Glen Cove, Rockport.) George Ulmer Jr.'s father was Capt. Ulmer who was born in Germany in 1736, he came to Waldoboro, in 1740, and married Catherine Remilly, and removed to what is now Rockland. He died Aug. 1839, at the age of 73. Capt. John's brothers were Capt. Philip M. Ulmer, who commanded the composed in part of Knox County men, and who charged and carried the heights on the western shore of Castine, and Major-Gen. George Ulmer, also a soldier of the Revolution, Major General of the 6th Division of Militia; Sheriff of Hancock County.

George Ulmer, Jr., was the first child of Capt. John Ulmer. He married, 1st, Mrs. Mary Beckett, 2nd, town. June 17, 1800, Major Gen. Henry Knox and his wife Lucy conveyed to George Ulmer of Thomaston land in that town. ## LET KIDNEYS FLUSH OUT 3 LBS. A DAY

Clean Out 15 Miles of Kidney Tubes

Nature put over 15 miles of tiny tubes and filters in your kidneys to strain the waste matter out of the blood. Kidneys should pass 3 pints a day and so get rid of more than 3 pounds of waste matter.

When the passing of water is scanty, with smarting and burning, the 15 miles of kidney tubes may need flushing out. This danger signal may be the beginning of nagging backache, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes and dizziness.

If kidneys don't empty 3 pints a day and so get rid of more than 3 pounds of waste matter, your body may take up some of these poisons causing serious trouble. Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, which have been used successfully by millions of people for over 40 years. They give happy relief and help the kidneys to flush out 3 pounds a day. Insist on Doan's Pills.

Miriam Townsend Sept. 2, 1824, and resided in Rockland, where he manufactured lime. He then removed to Camden and Hope, where he died. (To be continued)

At its annual inspection Tuesday evening Harbor Light Chapter O.E.S. was honored in having Worthy Grand Patron George H. Minott of South Portland as inspecting officer. There was a large number present, Grace Chapter of Thomaston being special guests. Other chapters represented were Seaside, Golden Rod, Ivy, Orient, Beach, Longfellow, Pine Cone and Bethany. In the exemplification of the work the degrees were conferred on Mrs. Elizabeth Lowell, Miss Maxine Lowell and Miss Olive Lowell and the manner in which the work was conducted brought forth commendation from the inspecting officer. Mr. Minott also made many valuable suggestions. In demonstrating the secret work, he was assisted by D.D.G.M. Carrie Smith of Ivy Chapter. At the close of his remarks he was presented with a gift by Worthy Matron Alice Marston. Mrs. Linthel Lane was soloist. Preceding the meeting supper was served under the direction of Mrs. Ella Overlock, Mrs. Louise Cavanaugh, and Mrs. Lillian Kellar.

George Ulmer, Jr., was the first child of Capt. John Ulmer. He married, 1st, Mrs. Mary Beckett, 2nd, town. June 17, 1800, Major Gen. Henry Knox and his wife Lucy conveyed to George Ulmer of Thomaston land in that town. Aug. 1, 1804, Jonathan Spear of Thomaston for $50 conveyed to George Ulmer of Thomaston two acres, being part of lot No. 21, in Madambetticks meadow May 3, 1808, George Ulmer Jr. of Camden for $2,000 conveyed to George Ulmer of Camden lot No. 65 of the Fales survey of that town. July 1, 1809, John Ulmer of Thomaston conveyed to George Ulmer of Camden lot No. 65 of the Fales survey of that town.

George Ulmer, (Jr.) of Rockland, Camden, and Hope, enlisted in Capt. Samuel Gregg's Co. Col., James Car-gill's Massachusetts Regiment Aug. 8, 1775, and was discharged Dec. 31, 1775. This company was stationed at St. Georges, Waldoborough and Camden for the defense of the sea-coast. He was also a private in Capt. Benjamin Plummer's Co. of Massachusetts troops, stationed at St. Georges for the defense of the sea-coast, serving from March 5 to Dec. 10, 1776. Also under the name of George Ulmore, private Capt. John Reed's Co. Col. James Hunter's Corps raised for the defense of eastern Mass., enlisted Aug. 21, discharged Nov. 20, 1782.

In his declaration for pension executed April 3, 1818, he gives his age as 57 and his residence as Camden in the District of Maine. He states he enlisted at Waldoboro, then in Massachusetts, now Maine, on the 17th day of May 1777, in Capt. Abraham Hunt's Company, 1st Regiment Mass., troops commanded by Col. Joseph Vose in Brigadier-Gen. John Glover's Brigade, from which he was honorably discharged at the Highlands near West Point, New York, Dec. 31, 1779. He further states he was never in any general battle, but engaged in many skirmishes with the enemy and among others at White Plains, and also at Flourown, and various others during the retreat from Rhode Island. He suffers from rheumatism and cramps so that he has not performed hard labor for several years. In his schedule of property annexed to his declaration for a pension, he lists one hog, one grindstone $2.50, furniture, one dining table, four chairs, and a note of $25 against Isaac Ulmer, one pot, one teakettle, a demand against Martin Ulmer $15, and cooking utensils valued at $6. He states he owes Capt. William Norwood and others about $200. Rheumatism and cramps have prevented him from doing hard labor for several years.

His wife's name was Mary and she was 63 years old when he applied for a pension July 12, 1820. She was described as not in good health and has lost the use of her right arm. The census of 1790 placed him in Thomaston with a family of eight. This man should not be confused with the George Ulmer, who is given in this census as living at Ducktrap (now Lincolnville) with a family of six. He is the Gen. George Ulmer who commanded the American forces at Clam Cove (Glen Cove, Rockport.) George Ulmer Jr.'s father was Capt. Ulmer who was born in Germany in 1736, he came to Waldoboro, in 1740, and married Catherine Remilly, and removed to what is now Rockland. He died Aug. 1839, at the age of 73. Capt. John's brothers were Capt. Philip M. Ulmer, who commanded the composed in part of Knox County men, and who charged and carried the heights on the western shore of Castine, and Major-Gen. George Ulmer, also a soldier of the Revolution, Major General of the 6th Division of Militia; Sheriff of Hancock County.

AT CASTINE NORMAL

National Educational Week occupied the attention of the activities on campus and in the surrounding territory during the past few days. Mrs. Alma Perkins '26 at the Bay School in Penobscot formalized the presentation of a silk American school room flag, donated by a friend of the school, with an afternoon program of recreation and songs by the children. Principal William D. Hall was present and made a few remarks during the formal part of the afternoon's entertainment. Supt. Philbrook made the formal presentation. Accompanying Principal Hall were students including Catherine Dobbins, Phyllis Smart, Phyllis Penney, Patricia Walker, Barbara Carpenter. Refreshments were served.

At the Rural Training School on Monday evening, Miss Una Gray presented her children in a community program recognizing the significance of the week. With Miss Gray presiding, and the contribution of the children, Principal Hall spoke upon the importance of visiting rural schools. Mrs. Addie Bowden gave a reading. Robert Cortell played a trumpet solo, Miss Kathleen McKenney gave a series of popular songs. Orett Robinson spoke on his recent trans-continental trip and Judge A. W. Patterson addressed the group on "Are We Likely to Become Involved in Another European War?"

Tuesday morning the faculty committee on Education Week, Mrs. Edna Harjuall, Miss Gladys Milliken and Orett Robinson, presented a student program at the chapel. Margaret McNeil gave briefly the purpose of the week. Phyllis Smart addressed the group on "Education and Public Service," Nathalie Nason on "The School and the Nation" and Harry Smith on "The School and Social Change."

Friday evening the alumni visitors and students gathered in the school gym for the fall annual prom. A large number participated in the delightful evening. Refreshments were served by the committee during intermission, chaperons being Mrs. Nina Adams and Miss Gladys Milliken.

Saturday, the school sponsored the second annual local teachers' conference under the committee of Mrs. Susie Nason, Mrs. Grace Bowden and Miss Una Gray. Eighty-one teachers, superintendents, members of the State Department of Education and visitors participated in the informal program. The meeting was built up around the presentation of practical demonstrations and talks followed in each case by a related round table discussion. Fine results in practical teaching technique are coming from these gatherings.

Over 60 interested citizens took the opportunity to visit the local elementary grades, with many more taking several hours to see the high school in operation.

Dorothy Dimick is now taking her training work in the rural school at North Castine. E. H. S.

At Union Church Rev. N. F. Atwood will preach Sunday a Thanksgiving sermon. There will be special music by the choir.

Alex Christie returned Saturday from Bangor, where he took examination for Inland Fisheries and Game. During his trip he was guest of Chief Warden Bradbury of Lincolnville.

One of the most interesting meetings of Marguerite Chapter O.E.S. was held Monday evening. Present was the worthy grand patron George Minot, of South Portland, who inspected the work on the several degrees and gave helpful instructions to the officers. He was presented a gift in behalf of the chapter, Worthy Patron Curtis Webster making the presentation speech, to which Mr. Minot responded fittingly. After the ceremony lunch was served in the banquet hall by Mrs. Nellie Thomas, Mrs. Helen Haskell, Mrs. Doris Shields, Mrs. Florence Guilford. Table decorations were unique with large bouquets of garden flowers, and pumpkins filled with fruit, attached to miniature turkeys by long orange ribbons. Pleasing remarks were made by Rev. N. F. Atwood. The attendance was unusually large. While in town Grand Patron Minot was guest of the worthy matron, Miss Elizabeth Ross.

Mrs. Edna Coombs entertained at a pyramid tea Monday afternoon as a Union Church benefit. Those present were Mrs. Alfred Hall, Miss Nellie Hall, Mrs. N. F. Atwood, Mrs. Austin Calderwood, Mrs. George Strachan, Mrs. Dewey Brown and Mrs. Mary Smith.

L. A. Coombs accompanied them as far as that city.

Mrs. Charles Chilles returned Saturday from two weeks' stay in Rockland, where she attended court, serving on traverse jury.

SOUTH CHINA

At the last regular session of (South) China Grange the ladies' degree team of Benton worked the third degree and the men's degree team the fourth degree on a class of nine candidates before one of the largest crowds of Grangers assembled here. Benton members to the number of 85, several guests from other Granges and our own members made about 200 that did ample justice to the fine harvest supper. On this occasion our two recent brides Mrs. Marcia Reed and Mrs. Eleanor (Esancy) Pouliot were each presented with a nice linen table cloth and pair of pillow-cases. The presentation speech was made by Past State Master W. J. Thompson.

THOMASTON

Mrs. Henrietta Levensaler leaves Friday for Cambridge to visit her daughter, Mrs. Eliza Carleton.

The November meeting of the Third District Council will be held today at 1:30 in the Legion rooms in Bath.

Frank Piper of Medford Highlands, Mass., was calling Tuesday on friends in town. He is soon to return to his home in Massachusetts.

Miss Gladys Doherty has returned from a week's vacation in Boston and resumed her position in the Thomaston National Bank.

Mrs. Leila Smalley had charge of the program for the Baptist Ladies' Circle Wednesday.

A large attendance at the meeting of the Beta Alpha Club Monday evening at the home of Miss Mary J. Watts had Miss Rosa Teel as hostess, assisted by Mrs. Ferdinand Day, Miss Edna Hill, Mrs. Leona Starrett, Miss Edith Harris. Refreshments were served. A quilt was knotted and Christmas work done.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Kiskilla are receiving congratulations on the birth Oct. 21 of a daughter at the Lucette, named Glenice.

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. D. Gray entertained Monday evening with a cooking utensil demonstration. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Edward Dornan, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Lynch, Mr. and Mrs. Orville Williams, Mr. and Mrs. Weston Young, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Dana.

Capt. and Mrs. Earl Starrett went to Boston Sunday to spend ten days. Dr. Crie, Mrs. E. P. Starrett, Mrs. Nellie Starrett, motored Saturday to Portland for a day's visit.

Mrs. Margaret Williamson of Rockland is caring for Mrs. Marie Ingraham at her home on Gleason street. Capt. John Brown, who had another ill-turn recently, is recovering. Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hastings and children, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Simmons and children and Miss Edith Harris were guests Sunday of Dr. Hall in Appleton.

At a card party to be held at the home of Mrs. Hazel Anzalone, Dunn street, Saturday at 2 o'clock under the auspices of the Gen. Knox Chapter, D.A.R., afternoon tea will be served. An admission fee will be charged.

The Union Thanksgiving service will be held in the Methodist Church next Sunday at 7:30 p. m., the preacher Rev. F. W. Brown of Camden. The date for the Christmas sale of the Federated Circle has been set for Dec. 10. The previously chosen day was found to be conflicting with other events.

Basketball practice will start Thursday evening at the gymnasium. The Community Brotherhood will meet in the Congregational vestry Tuesday evening with supper at 6:30. The speaker's topic will be "Youth and Its Crimes" by Warden Johnson of the State Prison.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Lermond and daughter Glenice attended the automobile show in Portland.

Miss Phyllis Foster who has been guest of her cousin, Miss Eleanor Seiber for a week at the Lucette, has returned to Lewiston.

Good news for local drama fans! Adelyn Bushnell, with the able assistance of Marshall Bradford and an excellent cast, will present Dec. 6 "The Late Christopher Bean," Sidney Howard's delightful, warm hearted and very amusing comedy, at Wats Hall for the benefit of the book fund of the Public Library.

Amory Waite, Jr. who is to lecture in Wats Hall Nov. 29 for the Nursing Association, has a thrilling story of first-hand experience in polar exploration to tell. He was radio operator and electrical engineer with Admiral Byrd's second Antarctic expedition, and after taking part in the two unsuccessful attempts to reach the commander with fresh supplies from the base, was one of the three men who, in August, 1934, made the difficult and perilous journey of 123 miles by tractor and rescued Byrd after almost five months of isolation. Mr. Waite's lecture will be illustrated by lantern slides.

Announcement by Williams-Brazier Post that a door prize of a ton of coal or its equivalent in fuel oil would be offered each night of the coming Indoor Turkey Bazaar, has apparently touched a popular note, judging from comment heard in Thomaston. The event, which will be held in Wats hall on Friday and Saturday nights of this week, is somewhat of a novelty for this section in that prizes for the various games will be turkeys. All the popular games of the yearly summer fair will have booths in the hall, in addition to various food booths.

Miss Carr and Miss Rayson are now showing a new line of Christmas gifts including a shipment of native hand embroidered from Greece at The Sign of The Ship, 3 Elliot street, Thomaston—adv. 140-142

Many inquiries come to me concerning rents and home, store and cottage properties. List your property with me whether to rent, buy or sell. I'll do the rest. Alfred M. Strout. Tel. 148, Thomaston.

WARREN

The furious gale of Sunday night tore down the large awning at the P. D. Starrett grocery store, ripping out boarding on the side of the building to which the framework of the awning was attached.

The several inches of hail which fell Sunday night, while an unwellcome sight to most persons, was a boon to deer hunters, as six were shot here Monday, four of which were tagged in town. Does were shot by William Dobbins, and Lawrence Weaver, bucks by Ernest Achorn Jr., and Joseph Leonard. Mr. Achorn's buck was the best this far in town, being a nine-pointer. Deer were shot Tuesday by Walter Starrett and Ernest Starrett, brothers, one by each. Ibrey Metcalf brought in a doe Wednesday. The number of deer tagged this season at Dewart's garage to date is 14, seven does, and seven bucks.

The sermon topic Sunday morning at the Congregational Church will be, "Thanksgiving and Progress." At the evening service the fourth in a series of psalm interpretations will be given, entitled, "The Psalm of Beautiful Reality" which was to have been delivered last Sunday evening but was held over because the storm prevented church attendance.

"Thanks Be Unto God," is sermon subject next Sunday morning at the Baptist Church; Church school at 12; Christian Endeavor at 6. Following the song service in the evening, the pastor's topic will be, "Forever Free."

The Workers' Conference was held Tuesday evening at the Baptist parsonage, with picnic supper preceding the business session at which Christmas plans, and other plans relating to the welfare of the Church school were discussed. Present were Rev. and Mrs. Howard A. Welch, Victor Hills, superintendent of the church school; Miss Marguerite Simmons, Mrs. Blanche Moore, Mrs. Blanche Peabody, Mrs. Jennie Keniston, Roger Teague, Miss Olive Teague, Mrs. Reta Coburn, and Mrs. Laura Seavey.

Mrs. Charles Goodwin of Franklin, who has been guest for a week of her daughter Mrs. Grace Henderson at the home of Mrs. Frances Vinal, is now visiting with her grandsons Charles Henderson and Reginald Henderson in Thomaston.

Mrs. Flora Peabody, Miss Hilda Aspey and Miss Evelyn Sawyer motored Sunday to East Orland where they visited Mr. and Mrs. George White.

The Dorcas Circle of King's Daughters met Monday evening with Mrs. Sadie Barrows.

Miss Edith French, guest the past two weeks of her grandmother, Mrs. Henrietta French has returned to Boston.

Mrs. Ruth Perry went Sunday to Belmont, Mass., with Mrs. Rose Watts, her aunt, and Harold Watts who recently passed a few days with Mrs. Martha Watts, and Mrs. Perry, and will visit them in Belmont, for two weeks.

Recent guests of the Winslows were Mr. and Mrs. Bert Herrick of Rangeley.

Ivy Chapter O.E.S. has accepted an invitation to visit Golden Rod Chapter O.E.S. in Rockland, Friday evening.

Mrs. Hannah Hastings, at the Hebron Sanatorium, was delighted to receive 50 birthday cards and several gifts from friends last week.

Albert Peabody who has been ill, is now able to be about.

Mrs. Emma Norwood, accompanied by Mrs. Ada Spear and Mrs. Lulu Libby, motored Saturday to South Hope where they spent the day with Mrs. Laura Hastings.

Nelson Williams and sister Miss Ermina Williams, who have been ill with grip are better. Mrs. Hattie MacFarland is now ill from a like ailment.

Classes in Radio Style

Twenty five visitors registered Education week at the Malcolm Corner Primary school. Regular lessons were heard according plans, but classes were announced by Ralph Perry and greeting extended by rhyme in a novel and pleasing manner as by radio. A sample of the rhymes used is:

"This program is called a day in school, It shows exactly what we do. Our afternoon program, you will see, From one o'clock, 'til three."

Invitations to parents and friends also bore clever rhymes carrying out the scheme. The model pilgrim village in the school sandbox, made and assembled by the third grade attracted much favorable comment with its Pilgrim and Indian groups, houses and church, as did the Mother Goose Garden project, with small green fence covered with flowers, into which a small door opened from a house with a garden gate. From this Mother Goose, first grade children are learning phrases, sentences, and words by position, the second grade following suit and in addition learning number work in connection with those beloved characters.

Joe Louis' appearance at the City Hall, Augusta, tomorrow night, against four good opponents, along with an all-fighting card of 36 rounds, will draw hundreds of fans from this section to the ringside for interest in the "Brown Bomber" throughout this vicinity is unlimited.

Twenty knockouts in 25 fights, is the proud record that Louis points to and remember not one thing that even resembles a defeat has asserted itself. A terrific puncher with both hands, Louis spares none of his sparing partners during his exhibition. It will be the last opportunity the fans of this section will have of seeing this mighty fighter in action.

Other bouts will include Tommy Regan, Rockland, vs. Frisco Dick, of Augusta; and Young Cochran, Rockland, vs. Gabby Poulin, Augusta.

Oliver Hamlin, the local sportsman who will referee all of the bouts tomorrow night, has some choice seats to dispense of.

CRIEHAVEN

Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Wilson are in Rockland to pass the winter with Mrs. Fred Rhodes.

Mrs. John Anderson has returned from East Union where she has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. Fred Spear, who has been ill.

Legal Notices

NOTICE OF FORECLOSURE Whereas, Lucia F. Burpee, of Rockland, is the owner of a certain lot of land in the County of Knox and State of Maine, by her Mortgage Deed dated the first day of October, 1923, and recorded in Knox County Registry of Deeds, Book 190, Page 136, conveyed to Adeline L. Miles of said Rockland, a certain lot or parcel of land, together with the buildings thereon, situated in said Rockland, and bounded and described as follows, to wit:

Beginning at stake and stones in the middle of a contemplated road, and on the southerly side of Limerock street as laid out on a plan of the Shoe Factory lot as drawn by C. A. Corliss in 1888; thence north 49 deg. 17 min. west by the line of Limerock street, 109 feet and three inches to the northeast corner of O. E. Blackington's land; thence south 27 deg. west by O. E. Blackington's, Marsh's and Kallach's land, 352 feet and eight inches to stake and stones at land of Sprague, formerly, thence south 67 deg. east by land of Sprague, 111 feet and nine inches to the middle of the contemplated road at stake and stones; thence by the middle line of the contemplated road to Limerock street to the place of beginning, meaning to convey lots Nos. 1, 2 and 3 as per plan above referred to. Being same premises conveyed to Fred F. Burpee by Franklin D. Lamb, recorded in Book 7, Page 307, Knox Registry of Deeds. Also see deed of Fred F. Burpee to Lucia F. Burpee dated March 30, 1931, and recorded in Book 82, Page 24 of said Knox Registry.

And whereas, said Mortgage was assigned by the said Adeline L. Miles to the Rockland National Bank, a National banking corporation located at said Rockland, by written assignment dated September 28, 1934, and recorded in Knox County Registry of Deeds, Book 240, Page 10, and whereas the condition of said Mortgage has been broken, now therefore, by reason of the breach of the condition thereof, I, Edward C. Payson, in my capacity as Receiver of the said Rockland National Bank, and hereto duly authorized, hereby claim a foreclosure of said Mortgage.

Dated at Rockland, Maine, this twelfth day of November, 1935.

(Signed) EDWARD C. PAYSON, Receiver of the Rockland National Bank, 137-Th-143

DISTRICT COURT OF THE UNITED STATES DISTRICT OF MAINE (SOUTHERN DIVISION)

In the Matter Of Receivership Of The Rockland National Bank, Rockland, Maine

ORDER OF NOTICE It appearing that the Petition of Edward C. Payson, Receiver of the Rockland National Bank, Rockland, Maine, verified the ninth day of November, A. D. 1935, praying that the said Edward C. Payson, as Receiver, be authorized to accept the offer of Home Owners' Loan Corporation bonds and cash payment in full compromise settlement of the obligation due said Receivership as represented by Asset No. 721, and to sell the bonds received at the market price on the date of sale subject to the special authorization of the Comptroller of the Currency, without further reference to the Court, in accordance with letter of the Comptroller of the Currency dated October 21, 1935, and also to accept compromise settlement of certain stockholders' liability evidenced in the records of the Bank by stock certificates having serial numbers 937 and 741, as may be made to appear in accordance with letters of the Comptroller of the Currency dated October 5 and November 2, 1935.

NOW, on Motion of the Petitioner, it is hereby ORDERED: That all creditors and other persons interested attend the Hearing on said Petition before the United States District Judge in the United States District Court in the City of Portland, County of Cumberland and State of Maine, on the 26th day of November, A. D. 1935, at 12 o'clock, M., Standard Time, and then and there show cause, if any they have, why the prayer of said Petitioner should not be granted.

And it is further

ORDERED: That this Order be published in the Portland Evening Express once on November 21st, 1935, and in the Rockland Courier-Gazette, Rockland, Maine, once on November 21st, 1935.

Dated, November 20, 1935.

By Order of Court, JOHN F. KNOWLTON, Clerk of the United States District Court, District of Maine.

DAVIS REELECTED

As President of the Warren and Thomaston Locals of N. E. M. P. A.

S. L. Stearns of Manchester, N. H., representative of the Boston office of the New England Milk Producers' Association, was guest speaker Saturday night before the annual meeting of the Warren and Thomaston locals of the Association, which was held at the Life Saver Tea Room, following a banquet served by Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Davis in their usual tasty way.

Mr. Stearns' talk was the more clearly illustrated and emphasized by the use of lantern slides. Members were admonished to watch out for non-co-operative buyers which at first pay good prices, but the prices are likely to drop off in order to sell, this condition reacting badly on the whole market, by price fluctuation. Mr. Stearns pointed out six reasons why there is much hope for better prices: (1) supplies already shortening and cream price advancing; (2) sales to non-co-operative dealers who are short and the increase of sales in pool; (3) decrease in cows and heifers outside New England; the increase in New England, and decrease outside will raise butter and cream price; (4) higher prices in New York which will move the milk back to the New York market; (5) possibility of class 1 raise depends on marketing agreement, unless acute shortage occurs; (6) better business conditions.

He explained the use of the 10 cent dues required by the Association as follows: 2 cents as N. E. M. P. A. dues; 1 cent reserve fund; 2 cents certificate ownership which covers investment in plants and working capital; 2 cents New England Dairy operating costs, represents the cost of management, directors, executive

IS YOUR HUSBAND BETWEEN 50 AND 60

When a man is that age and begins to show partially to the old arm chair it's up to the good wife to do something about it.

Really a man of 60 is in his prime—no reason on earth why he should feel tired out after his day's work—no reason why he shouldn't have plenty of ambition—plenty of forceful energy—plenty of endurance.

If you want to see him walk with spry step—want him to sleep sound at night and awake refreshed in the morning—just drop into his morning cup of tea or coffee as much of the world famous Kruschen salts as will lie on a dime—he can't taste it.

Do this every morning for a month—the results will make you proud and happy—your husband will look and feel younger—the urge for action will possess him—keener mind—spry step.

For the 6 precious salts in Kruschen help to keep stomach, liver, gall bladder, bowels and kidneys in more healthy working order—and the cost of all these benefits is but a trifle—40 cents.

No drastic cathartics—no constipation—but blissful daily bowel action when you take your daily dose of Kruschen. Get it at Blaisdell Pharmacy, Corner Drug Store, or any drug store in the world.

committee and accounting; 3 cents cost of marketing and price protection.

He asserted that the New England Dairies and the New England Milk Producers' Association as the only co-operative organization in Boston which applied for Federal assistance, and that such assistance was impossible without such organization; that several other co-operative organizations opposed Federal license and that marketing agreement can not be set up without the assistance of the N.E.M.P.A. Only since Federal judge ruled that Federal license illegal have all the co-operatives supported the idea, so whatever benefits have been received from Federal assistance, must be in a large measure accredited to the N. E. M. P. A.

He pointed out the higher average spread the past two years and the sharp seasonal changes in periods of unbridled competition. The unsound price schedule with Class 1 price breaking in winter when grain is high was particularly emphasized. He added that the erection of an N. E. M. P. A. creamery in Union, was to support the N.E.M.P.A. in that section. The N.E.M.P.A. sells milk on short time basis to non-co-operatives at a premium, but if the non-co-operative may buy at the market on the same terms as the others, a fair arrangement. Maine is furnishing 12% of the milk in the Boston market, and 8% of the cream there. Wisconsin is furnishing 31% of the western cream. Inspection rules in the West are not so rigid as in the East and this condition the N. E. M. P. A. is trying to correct through legislation.

Milk producers in this section who are at present shipping milk to Boston instead of cream last year know that they are netting more for milk and feel satisfied they made the change.

Much more interest apparently is being manifested in the N. E. M. P. A. since Maine, permitted to send 85 delegates to the annual meeting of the association held the last of October in Boston, sent 79. In fact figures on the chart proved that very few delegates were absent from the meeting.

S. J. Wright of Clinton, district manager of the N.E.M.P.A. spoke briefly at the conclusion of Mr. Stearns' talk.

Fifty members and guests including Mrs. Stearns and Mrs. Wright and wives of the locals attended the banquet Saturday evening. Officers re-elected included, president, Frank L. Davis; secretary-treasurer, Charles A. Webb; members of an executive committee named from the floor and the chair were Ernest G. Starrett, Fred Miller, George Martin, Wendall Studley, and William Yates.

HAD SMALL ESTATE

Lou Tellegen, matinee idol of pre-war days and the early '20s, who committed suicide in Los Angeles Oct. 29, 1934, by plunging a pair of scissors seven times into his breast, left an estate of $300, according to letters of administration issued Tuesday by Surrogate James A. Foley, to his wife, Mrs. Julia Horne Tellegen, known on the stage as Eva Casanova, of the Hotel St. Andrew, Broadway and Seventy-second street.

The petition for letters, filed for Mrs. Tellegen by Morris Somers, attorney, states that Mr. Tellegen is also survived by a 10 year-old son, Rex Tellegen, by his third wife, Nina Romano; and a daughter, Diane van Dommelen, 28 years old, by his first marriage to the Contesse Jeanne de Broncken. His second wife was Geraldine Farrar, former Metropolitan opera star.—New York Herald Tribune.

BELATED RAMBLERS

Picked By North Haven Reader, who Likes Happy Hope Farm Stories

Editor of The Courier-Gazette:—

During the recent hail storm, I picked six sprigs, with blossoms, from my little baby rambler. It seemed a shame to leave them out in the cold storm. I thought, as I brought them into the brightly lighted room, that they resembled sleepy children.

I find much to interest me in the "Happy Hope Farm" items, and hope the lady will contribute a lengthy paragraph soon. How many people knew the frogs shed their coats that way? I am one who did not, and I find those items instructive as well as entertaining, and always look for them in each paper.

Open Season On Moose Last Three Days—The Conditions

The only Eastern State, to open its forests for moose hunting, Maine will see its first open season on moose next week in six years when it will be legal to shoot the animals for three days in three counties.

Next Thursday Friday and Saturday in the counties of Knox Lincoln and Waldo moose will have to face open fire of sportsmen, although the rules will be anything but lenient. Because of the scarcity of the animals it will be "legal to kill bulls only, not less than one year old and with not less than two prongs of not less than three inches in length on each horn."

In other words, before hunters kill one of the animals they must make sure that it is full grown, and not a female, because all prospective mothers of moose are needed to keep the fast diminishing species alive. There are only approximately 2,000 of the lordly animals left in Maine. Each hunter will be allowed but one.

Game officials declare that moose populate the three counties of Knox Lincoln and Waldo more thickly than any others. Through natural and accidental deaths Maine moose have suffered so many losses that they have been barely holding their own. They showed a slight increase in the three counties of central Maine where they will be legal this year. In 1929 when a six day open season was in effect in Aroostook, Hancock, Lincoln, Knox, Penobscot, Waldo and Washington counties, between 80 and 90 were taken by hunters.

The open season may attract large numbers of out of State hunters to the three counties just east of here from the groups who would normally go to Canada for their annual try for the big animals. An open season ranging from a month to all winter is in effect in the Canadian provinces and Alaska. Maine's closest rival, the Province of New Brunswick, has an open season from Oct. 20 to Nov. 20 on bull moose with six points or more on their antlers.

Moose have become increasingly numerous and domestically inclined in this section in recent years. Several have been killed by automobiles and trains, and in some cases they have joined herds of livestock, sometimes following them into a tie-up.

"Stop wasting your starting time"

SOYS...THE ENGINEER IN EVERY GALLON

YOUR CAR NEEDS "Lubricated Starting"

YOU not only lose time with a slow-starting winter gasoline, but money, too! Every extra turn of the starter wastes battery power. Every extra pull on the choke increases gasoline consumption. You are safe with Tydol...it's the one gasoline built to give instant "lubricated starting". This amazing gasoline contains a cold-proof, top-cylinder oil that actually lubricates cold-stuck valves and pistons into quicker, surer, safer starting. Tydol is different! Yet it costs no more than ordinary gasolines.
